

Table of Contents

Teachers' Secrets and Motherhood Savvy for Homeschoolers

By Renée Ellison

Part 1: The Power of a Focused Mother

The present state

Dashed expectations

Upping your role

What to do

Your investment

The key to successful mothering: Focusing and nurturing

Focused emotional training

Focused discipline training

Focused academics and chores

Navigational tools

Navigational tool #1: Stop spreading yourself too thin

Navigational tool #2: Wake up to a day defined by academics and WORK

Navigational tool #3: Use pencil-power to sharpen your focus

Cheerfulness: The golden attitude of nurture

How do you start?

One-a-day's

Part 2: How to Train Your Children, Not Just Discipline Them

Submission of the flesh

Begin with the end in view

3 images for viewing discipline

Image #1: The carrot and the pitchfork

Image #2: Horses' reins

Image #3: Break and bond

Nurturing moments

Raise up a shield of expertise in your child

Can you love your child too much?

Absolute surrender and lavish love

Training, not tyranny

Training tools

Training tool #1: Busy children are happy children

Training tool #2: Spanking

Training tool #3: Divert attention

Training tool #4: Make it counterproductive to them

Training tool #5: Consistency

Training tool #6: Re-runs

Training tool #7: Shape the attitude

Semantic atmosphere

Why thank-you

The authority of your word

Respect, and appeals to authority

Accidents

Sickness

Sibling rivalry

Stick figure eye-openers

The quality of your discipline

Inconvenient vigilance

Help from the Holy Spirit

Work ethic

Results

Part 3: 12 Ways to Trigger the Brain

- [1.] Narration: Being able to fire back information
- [2.] Draw simple pictures
- [3.] Skills: Splintering the task
- [4.] Skills: Short spurts
- [5.] Skills: Spaced repetition
- [6.] Schedule active vs. passive periods
- [7.] Teach or learn tough subjects during high voltage times
- [8.] Use small moments wisely
- [9.] Teach for whole body instruction
- [10.] Use an analogy or object lesson to nail points
- [11.] Drive a new concept into inner speech
- [12.] Sink an emotional hook in first, then follow with the facts
- [13.] Get another angle for no-takes
- [14.] Use placemat grounding
- [15.] Train keen observation through drawing
- [16.] Don't delegate too soon
- [17.] Train critical thinking skills
- [18.] Busy children are happy children

- [19.] No need for grading
- [20.] Teach for mastery instead of plowing through curriculum
- [21.] Go wide when you can't go forward [22.] Use a motivational prize box
- [23.] Teach year 'round
- [24.] Tight, rigorous moral training but low-stress nourishing academic education
- [25.] Do re-runs for discipline and attitude training
- [26.] Talk your way through the encyclopedia
- [27.] Strive for a quiet, productive mind
- [28.] Avoid comparing and competing
- [29.] Avoid using a computer in the early years

Part 4: Top-Notch Home Management Strategies

Home management objective #1: Stay near your fuel

Home management objective #2: Sharpen your focus

Home management objective #3: Strive for a simplified life

Home management objective #4: Get financially solvent today

Home management objective #5: Build your body for the long haul

Home management objective #6: Prize your primary duty

Family meals

Develop the skill of sewing

Prepare your own alternative natural pharmacy

Home management objective #7: Handle your house well

Brave bold bulldozing

Linen enhancement

Corral your domestic spaces

Upgrade later

Diffuse the huge

Sort and pitch

Get a grip on your closet

Become a systems scrutinizer

Mayors of cities

Garner a list of life principles

Minimize the need to clean

Hands that work

Kitchen tips

Aprons and pie crusts

Spiff up your spices

Seven victory meals

Small canning jars for multi-purpose storage

Home management objective #8: Extend hospitality

Home management objective #9: Raise the relational bar

Home management objective #10: Hone your homeschooling

Are you sure you have the right curriculum?

Unit studies

All the “not-so-hot” choices out there

What about unschooling?

A curriculum for the long ride

Beyond curriculum: managing the mental diet of your child

What do you DO with a child?

A broader view of each child’s future

He gently leads those who are with young

Knock the stomach right out of your incapacities. Understanding WHAT to do, and how to do it, is 99% of the task. You can’t afford not to get this book. Stay sane. Buy this book.

<http://www.homeschoolhowtos.com/>